Limited edition of 7

The puma, cougar, mountain lion, or panther, are all names for the same feline, Felis Concolor. Primarily a solitary cat the Puma hunts alone and his territory can cover up to 25 square miles. Territories of the female and male may overlap, but the territory of same sex Pumas will not. When stalking and attacking their prey, pumas have extraordinary jumping abilities with running jumps up to 40 feet and vertical leaps up to 18.

I've always had an affinity for big cats and am awed by their beauty, strength, and agility. They are, therefore, one of my most favorite subjects. The pursuit is on.
