

Sculpture Price Sheet and Ordering Information

Every sculpture, even though it is part of an edition, is unique. The casting process from the original clay, to wax, to bronze results in slight variations in form and surface texture. As is true of patinas, no two are identical. There will always be subtle differences in each piece, which only adds to the uniqueness and value of hand cast and finished works of art.

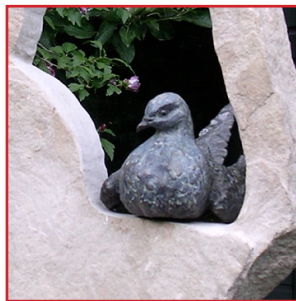

All prices include shipping and handling to anywhere in the lower 48 states. Your order will be packaged with the utmost care for safe arrival. Please contact me by telephone or email with your order request. I accept payments through Pay Pal, a free service for safe and secure Internet transactions. If you don't already have an account, log onto PayPal.com for more information. Once payment has been received, I will contact you with a tracking number, and your order will be shipped.

Layaway plans are also available. Colorado residents will be charged a 2.9% sales tax. Due to ever-changing costs of producing bronzes, prices are subject to change. Virtually any bronze can be enlarged to life-size or monumental, and commission work is welcomed.

Thank you for visiting my site. Your interest in my work is greatly appreciated. Your questions and comments are welcomed. Please feel free to email me or call me, and I'd be happy to talk with you.
